Coleman Community Sports Association is sponsoring an ice Frolic to be held in the Coleman Arena, Saturday night, Feb. 12 on behalf of children of Association members. A well balanced program has been arranged and it should provide an entertaining evening for both youngsters and their parents.

It is proposed to serve the youngsters with hot dogs, pop and chocolate as they enter the building. A committee will be

A costume parade will open the program led by Coleman Pipe Band around the ice surface. Prizes will be awarded first, second and third places in the best dressed and comic costumes. There will be a girls' hockey game in addition to races for both boys and girls.

One of the highlights is expected to be a jitterbug contest among the swing contingent of the younger set. It is also hoped to have the Bellevue Figure Skating Club on hand to give an exhibition of figure skating.

NOTON STILL IMPROVING IN HEALTH

Bill Noton, of The Journal staff who took seriously ill last September, still continues to show steady improvement in the Belcher hospital.

He has reached the stage where he is permitted to put on his clothes, get into his wheelchair and make the rounds. Recently one of his former nurses was permitted to take him home from supper and Bill received a big thrill to pass through the hospital gates on to the street.

Calgary Man Sentenced To Year's Imprisonment For Possessing Goods Stolen From Pattinson's Store

Pleaded not Guilty and Claimed He Found Package In Common C.P.R. Yard.

Thomas Howard, no fixed abode, was sentenced to a year in jail by Magistrate G. H. Rose in Calgary police court on Friday, Jan. 28, when found guilty of possessing the eight lighters stolen from Pattinson's Hardware store during the recent Bonspiel week. The lighters were part of the display of curling prizes in the store window. Howard denied stealing the lighters and claimed he picked up a package containing the lighters in the Coleman C.P.R. yard after observing a man drop the package there. He returned to Calgary with the lighters and according to police pawned four of them to separate brokers, using a different name in each transaction.

J. M. Chalmers identified the lighters due to special markings he had observed while preparing them for display. Routine evidence was also presented by Constable Rudolph Kwasney, concerning the theft.

When asked by the Magistrate if he wished to make a statement, Howard replied, "All I've got to say is, I was hungry." Stressing the defendant's previous convictions on similar charges the magistrate then sentenced Howard to imprisonment.

Coleman Choir Plan Spring Performance

Choir Under Direction of Mrs. F. R. Duncanson Plans Concert in March.

The Coleman Choral Society, organized in February, 1948, and which delighted music lovers of Coleman with its initial concert last June, has been practising assiduously each Wednesday night since last October.

Rehearsals have been very well attended, and with the addition of several new members, the Society now has fifty voices.

Mrs. F. R. Duncanson, conductor of the choir, states that she is well pleased with the progress made this season and with the enthusiasm displayed by the members from whom she has received splendid co-operation.

We learn that some of the pieces selected for this year's program calls for far more intensive work than those rendered last year, but the choir has tackled them like veterans.

We are advised that the Society is planning to give a concert towards the end of March, and, remembering how well last year's performance was received, we feel sure that Coleman's music lovers have a treat in store for them.

A vote to withdraw from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was carried by a large majority at a meeting of the executive of District No. 1 of the Western Canada Firebosses Association at Blairmore on Thursday, Feb. 20, according to a statement by J. McIsaac, secretary-treasurer of the group.

The firebosses voted to apply for a charter with the Canadian Congress of Labor and made plans to hold a conference of the Alberta firebosses at Calgary on Feb. 25 and 26 at which representative firebosses from the Crow Nest Pass, Lethbridge and Drumheller will be invited.

Rev. W. H. Irwin Passed Away At Hanna

Former Bellevue Pastor Well-Known Here For Political And Dramatic Activities.

The death at Hanna last week of the Rev. W. H. Irwin came as a distinct shock to his numerous acquaintances in Coleman. The former United Church minister in Bellevue was well known in Coleman due to his active interest in the political and dramatic fields.

He contested the Pincher Creek-Crows' Nest constituency under the C.C.F. banner in 1944, losing out to the incumbent member, E. O. Duke. Social Credit. His ventures into the world of drama were far more successful and many of Coleman's theatre lovers will have pleasant recollections of the fine performances staged in the old Community Hall by the Bellevue group under Rev. Irwin's direction.

He was about 68 years of age and had been in poor health for some time. Had he lived he would have retired from the ministry this year.

The late Mr. Irwin was born in Ontario, it is believed near Clinton, Ont., where his mother last lived. Prior to church union he was a minister of the Methodist church.

In South Pulpits In the Lethbridge Presbytery for nearly 20 years, Mr. Irwin had occupied pulpits at Macleod and Taber prior to moving to First United Church in the city in 1932. He remained here until 1940 at which time he moved to the Bellevue pastorage. In 1946 he went to Hanna where he was living at the time of his death.

While in Lethbridge the late Mr. Irwin was noted for his great interest in the program of the church and in the bettering of the individual. He was the Alberta Conference secretary of the Evangelism and Social Service department for many years. He served a term as president of the Lethbridge Ministerial Association.

Surviving is his widow, in Hanna; two sons, Bob of Clinton, Ont., and Bill of Bellevue; and a daughter Marion, a teacher in Hanna. Another daughter, Evelyn, predeceased her father in 1940.

Coleman Rodeo July 9; Expect Best Riders Here Preparatory To Calgary Stampede Two Days Later

Executive Re-Elected to office; Herman Linder Invited to Speak to Board of Trade Members.

HERMAN LINDER

Coleman Board of Trade held an executive meeting in the Grand Union on Friday, Jan. 21 with president Percy Dickie presiding and twelve members in attendance.

The subject of Coleman's beer delivery came up for discussion and a letter read from the Alberta Brewers' Agents Ltd. It was agreed to write the Brewers vitally interested in beer consumption in Coleman to inform them of the situation and the fact that both the Board and the Town Council were strongly opposed to the new policy inaugurated by the Brewers' Agents Ltd. and asking for their co-operation.

The 1948 executive were reselected to office and include H. Allen, F. Abousaify, F. Duncanson, N. Nicholas, J. Wilkie, L. S. Richards, A. Toppino, H. Boulton, G. Evans, F. Graham, A. Montalbetti, O. Celli, P. DeGroot, J. Malanchuk, J. M. Allan, and A. Balloch.

J. Gillespie and F. Graham were appointed auditors for 1949.

Jim Wilson, Rodeo committee chairman, informed the meeting that July 9 was available to Coleman for its Rodeo. It was unanimously agreed to accept that date for the local show.

In order to increase the entertainment following the Rodeo it was suggested that contact be made with Crescent Shows to encourage them to come in during the Rodeo and add to the general carnival atmosphere. It is hoped that earlier commitments will not prevent the Crescent amusements from appearing in conjunction with the Rodeo. Mr. Abousaify was instructed to write the Crescent management in an effort to effect this arrangement.

The Board's next regular meeting was set for Feb. 17 in the form of a supper meeting and Herman Linder will be invited to the supper to address the gathering in connection with this year's Rodeo. Other items to be discussed at the next meeting include the drawing up of plans for future programs and a plan to exhibit the Rodeo films in the surrounding district. Progress of the Civic Centre scheme will also be reviewed at that time.

Controversy Rages Over C.N.P. Trans Canada Route

Proponents of Northern Route Rap Progress on Highway Via Southern Interprovincial.

(Lethbridge Herald)

President McFarland of the Southern Trans Canada Highway Association, proponents of the Crow's Nest Pass route, put the matter in its proper light the other day. He said that there should be no quarrel about routes, that if there are three feasible routes they should all be built and that there should be a network of highways connecting them and the American border. That will come in time. In the meantime work is proceeding on the British Columbia and Alberta highways which will connect at Crow's Nest and which will serve most people, both residents and tourists. That is the Crow's Nest route which traverses the irrigated sections of South Alberta, the Crow's Nest and the East Kootenay coal fields, the West Kootenay base metal area, the southern ends of the great fruit valleys of the interior and then on to the Fraser River Valley and Vancouver. It's the short route closest to the 49th parallel, across which most of our tourists come, and it's the winter route easiest to keep open. We are satisfied the Southern route will be all connected up at Crow's Nest for a hard-surfaced highway from Vancouver to the western Saskatchewan border by 1950 or thereabouts. It will be one of them no matter what efforts may be made to put the official stamp on one of the northern routes.

No one begrudges Edmonton a Trans-Canada highway. But no Trans-Canada highway should be built through any section to the detriment of any other section.

Piper Jimmy Moore Scores Big Hit In U.S.

According to information reaching our office this week, perennially popular Pipe Major James Moore, was the outstanding attraction recently at Burns Night celebrations staged in Great Falls, Montana and Coeur D'Alene, Idaho.

Concerning his appearance at their city the "Coeur D'Alene Daily Press" had this to say, "Entertainment highlight of the evening was the appearance of Pipe Major Jimmy Moore, of Coleman, Alberta, who appeared in Highland costume and showed that a variety of music may be obtained from bagpipes. Piper Moore served with the "Ladies from Hell" during the First World War and was named the No. 1 pipe player of the world several years ago."

In Great Falls the Burns Night was sponsored by the Elks Lodge in that city and the lodge news bulletin tells of Jimmy "making the halls resound to grand Scottish music being played as it should be played."

Jimmy also toured the hospitals and orphanages in both cities in response to numerous appeals from these institutions. In order to meet all these appeals, Jimmy was "held over" for several days in both centres.

QUEEN RATES FIFTH IN COMPLEXION CONTEST—A group of British beauty specialists have picked the 10 loveliest complexions in Britain, among them that of the Queen. They admitted Britain had almost lost its complexion leadership during the war because of the shortage of fats used in cosmetics. But, they said, with the return of peace, British women have reasserted their right to the claim of being the world's loveliest. The specialists, who operate under the collective name Phyllis Earle, said the buxom British alabaster complexion has not changed much in decades, although more make-up is being used.—S.N.S. photo.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Faithful Forever

By JEAN CRAIG

SHE wanted to cry. But there was the hotel lobby full of people, and she was one of those women who never cry till they lock themselves in a room. She raised the newspaper in front of her misty eyes, she couldn't read the news story about her husband, though she could still make out the blurred picture of him on the front page. Bert, her heart cried out, Oh Bert!

The noise in the lobby crept back into her consciousness as she lifted her eyes. Laughing groups of people were coming in. It seemed a strange place to read of a husband's infidelity. Or, perhaps it wasn't.

She was in a daze riding up in the elevator and it wasn't till she heard the operator and a sentence with "...you think, Mrs. Morgan?" that she realized she had been speaking to her.

As she stepped off at her floor she managed a bright laugh and "Indeed I do," though she had no idea what the girl had been talking about.

When she had let herself into her room she sank down in a large chair in the corner and sat there in the darkness for a long time. Finally she reached up and pulled the lamp chain above her head, flooding the corner of the room with orange light. She lit herself a cigarette, drawing on it deeply. She would have to make up her mind quickly just what she was going to do about the situation, because Grace, who lived on the same street, back in the city, was staying at the other large hotel of the resort. And soon her telephone would ring. Just as soon, in fact, as Grace read the newspaper.

And it would be Grace, saying "Wasn't it wonderfully lucky the plane crashed into the apartment above your husband?" And how marvelous, him being a doctor, when there were all those injured and everything. Why, darling, your husband's a hero!"

When what Grace really wanted to know was, "What was your husband doing in his secretary's apartment at one a.m.?" She knew Grace.

She unfolded the newspaper and began to read the account again. It was an early edition and just the bare details were there.

"Believed to have been forced low by the violent summer storm which swept Hamilton last night, an yet unidentified plane crashed into the Rosedale Arm apartments, setting fire to at least three stories. Dr. Albert Morgan, who was in an apartment just below the crash at the time and who worked fearfully to remove victims from the burning building, described it as follows: 'I was working on a medical paper in the apartment of Miss Dorothy Fletcher, my secretary, who was helping me to prepare the work, when, at about one a.m. we heard the sudden roar...'"

She put down the paper and closed her eyes wearily. It was transparent enough. Had she and Albert really drifted apart so far?

True, there hadn't been the same love-making between them. But then she had attributed it to the shortage of doctors, the increased demands on Albert. She hadn't thought it was his secretary. She tried to conjure up an image of the girl with Albert and realized she didn't even know what she looked like. Her voice had been familiar from phoning Albert's office, but she had never seen her. Never even asked what she looked like—she had believed that sowing the seeds of suspicion usually bore bitter fruit.

She lit another cigarette. Well, what was a wife supposed to do? Maintain a cold, bitter silence, let Albert ask for a divorce if he wanted one? Cast a shadow on the lives of their children? Or pretend that the situation really had been innocent? It didn't look as though Albert wanted to make an end of their marriage, he was trying to cover up with a story of being in his secretary's apartment, working on a medical paper.

She listened while Grace chattered with poisonous innocence, then, at the right moment, she laughed loudly. "Why, Grace, darling! That's really funny. I hate to disappoint you, dear, but if you'd ever seen Mrs. Fletcher you'd know that they were working on Albert's medical paper—and that's all. Yes, she's a dried up old stick, why, older than you, darling."

After what seemed hours, Grace finally hung up. She settled back in her chair. Well, that story about Miss Fletcher had at least shut Grace up. And as for Albert, he kept her picture out of the paper, their friends might have something to suspect, but nothing to lay a finger on.

More than an hour later she got

RECIPES

Soup Accompaniments

Soup may be served with many accompaniments, such as croutons, crisped crackers, cheese sticks and pulled bread. These are some of our best-liked recipes.

Croutons: Cut stale bread into 1/2-inch (or smaller) cubes. Arrange on cookie sheet, bake in oven 300 deg. F., turning occasionally until all sides are golden brown. If desired, brush bread cubes lightly with melted butter before placing in oven.

Hot Crisped Crackers: Toast thin crackers for three minutes in a hot oven 400 deg. F. They are better if spread with a thin film of butter before being put in the oven.

Cheese Sticks: Cut stale bread in long, narrow strips, spread with butter, then with a coating of grated cheese. Place in the oven until brown. Crackers may be treated in the same manner.

Pulled Bread: Remove crusts from a baker's French loaf. Pull the bread apart into irregular pieces with two forks. Crisp to a creamy yellow in a slow oven.

Souffled Crackers: Lay plain soda crackers in a large shallow pan, cover with ice water. Let stand eight minutes—no longer. Lift out with drainer, let water drip off, place on cookie sheet. Dot with butter, bake in hot oven until puffed and brown, about 35 minutes.

Melba Toast: Cut stale bread into very thin slices. Remove crusts and bake slices in a slow oven 300 deg. F. until thoroughly dried and brown.

Many Applications Received To Explore Sask. Oil Lands

W. J. Bichan, director of the Mineral Resources branch of the Province of Saskatchewan, announces applications have been received for permits to explore 7,500,000 acres of oil lands. Recent applications include 29 for geological or geophysical permits covering 250,000 acres each and nine for sub-surface permits, covering a maximum of 35,000 acres each. When the applications have been formally approved and granted, there will be 13,340,292 acres of Crown oil and gas rights in Saskatchewan under lease or permit.

Bulk of the territory to be explored flanks the Alberta boundary, extending 365 miles north from the U.S. boundary line to the Beaver River region, 70 miles north of Lloydminster. The area extends 180 miles east from the Alberta boundary, to the Saskatoon-Rosham area. 2814 up and went out, having promised to meet Grace downstairs. Grace was sitting at a table in the lounge, looking rather glum. She had a copy of the late edition of the paper in her hands.

She was almost afraid to sit down—if Albert hadn't kept that girl's picture out of the paper!

"Oh hello, darling," said Grace. She pushed the paper across the table. "Well, here are the pictures in the paper. The hero and heroine of the disaster. Your husband and his secretary. I must say you described her perfectly. She does look like a dried-up old stick."

She sat down quickly, before her legs could give way. The pictures were in front of her, but she couldn't see them for the mistiness in her eyes. Albert! she was thinking, forgive me, forgive me! She pushed the paper to the floor.

She could hear Grace chattering on in her millions tone. "Of course, darling, I didn't believe you for a moment about her being a frump—but, well, it does kind of ruin a good story."

GIVES ESTIMATE OF ALBERTA'S GAS RESERVES

CALGARY.—Astronomical figures engaged the attention of the Dining Room Commission investigating Alberta's natural gas reserves here, as geologist W. C. Spooner of Shreveport, La., gave his estimate of Alberta's gas reserves at 4,900,000,000 cubic feet.

Mr. Spooner said that with the increased drilling activities, a reasonable expectation of new gas reserves during the next five years would be 3,000,000,000 cubic feet.

He said the Pincher Creek gas field was "proved incompletely developed," with a potential of 500,000,000 cubic feet, and estimated reserves at Medicine Hat at 415,000,000 cubic feet.

THE PAS, Man.—Many strange and wonderful stories were told by hard-bitten men of the north who drifted into this northern town for the second annual Northern Manitoba Trappers' festival recently. For example:

There is the alleged "two-headed caribou". One northern character is reported to have thrown the provincial game and fisheries department into a minor uproar by applying for two licences to shoot one caribou. The beast is supposed to have two heads and eight legs.

Then there is the perennial story about a tropical island which exists in the midst of the barren lands complete with Spruce trees and deciduous forest through at the base and branches bigger around than a man's waist.

One fact which is indisputable however, according to provincial game guardian men, is that the moose population in the north country is now alarmingly depleted.

Suggested methods for doing away with ravenous timber wolves preying on big game are a little bit in the Paul Bunyan category.

One scheme is apparently simplicity itself. All you have to do is freeze a razor sharp hunting knife in the lee of a likely lake with the blade pointing skywards. The timber wolf, being a curious customer, investigates the knife by quietly licking the blade.

This, naturally cuts his tongue, and he allegedly becomes maddened at the taste of blood and eventually dies from blood on the stomach.

A more laissez-faire method of cutting down the wolf population, according to another source, would be to let them eat up all the big game until there was nothing left.

Mr. Wolf and his pals would eventually starve to death.

This could result also in an economic phenomena whereby the wolf, after devouring heavier and other small fur-bearing, would become the most valuable, and only, fur in existence.

If any other suggestions of a similar nature are current we wouldn't be a bit surprised—C.K. in Winnipeg Free Press.

Mrs. M. L. McQueen, executive director of the Council of Social Agencies here, said in an interview that children absorb the influence of their parents more than academic teachings. The child is always searching for a pattern to follow.

Some parents treat pets better than their children, Mrs. McQueen said. They want their children perfect and often "smack them" when they don't do what is considered right.

"Instead small children should be patted and fondled when we want them to do right."

"There are some times, however, when you just don't know what to do when a child does something wrong," said Mrs. McQueen. "There are some times when a light spanking might be in order. I know, I brought up two children."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Right On The Job

Public officials rarely get credit for their achievements and still less plaudits for their general efforts on behalf of the community they were elected to serve.

The brickbats are many and varied but the bouquets are usually reserved for that solemn occasion when the public servant is gently laid to rest among the flowers and his dreams of civic betterment.

We sometimes wonder if the average ratepayer is aware of the special time and effort these men devote to the solution of problems that confront the community.

Ours is the privilege and opportunity to observe these leaders at the tasks of community leadership and the effect, at least, on us, is both inspiring and revealing.

At the last meeting of Coleman's town council we were particularly impressed by the multiple avenues of solution being explored by the members as they wrestled with the contentious sewerage problem in the downtown and adjacent areas.

No stones were left unturned as they initiated the primary plan toward final defeat of this serious threat to Coleman's health and welfare.

The main stumbling-blocks are the varied details surrounding a fair and equitable distribution of the costs involved in this vital operation.

When the petition is finally presented to those concerned they may rest assured that it is based on the fairest considerations that are humanly possible.

"A Plague on both their Houses"

Whenever the Caplites of Calgary or the Montagues of Edmonton get involved in an argument over the respective merits of the two cities the result is invariably ludicrous.

The recent outbursts of petulant anger from the Capital City press over the reported decision to drop the Yellowhead Pass route in favor of a more southerly location for the impending completion of a Trans-Canada highway are glaring examples of this asinine and misplaced devotion to civic prestige.

In a recent editorial, the Edmonton Bulletin confined its childish reaction to a disparaging summary of Calgary's geographic unsuitability as a major "klaxon stop" along the national highway. We hold no brief for either side in this long standing feud and the answer to the Bulletin's blast was probably forthcoming from the Calgary camp in short order and equally devoid of constructive criticism.

What concerns those of us who live along the route of the Southern Inter-Provincial highway, now nearing completion, is the complete ignorance of this road in the Edmonton writer's diatribe.

The historic features of the old southern highway, its long standing record of service to motorists as the only link with the Pacific Coast, prior to the completion of the Big Bend route, were either ignored or tactfully omitted in the Bulletin's infantile analysis of a trans-continental highway's requirements.

One of its weirdest claims was that concerning population. It would appear that some of that oil gushing out of the earth at nearby Leduc has spilled over and coated the Bulletin's statistical records when it makes the glaring mistake of stating that a Northern road would serve the majority of Western population. The fact that Edmonton has a larger population than Calgary is only of minor significance to the projection of a national highway from Coast to Coast.

From the Rockies to the shores of the Pacific the bulk of the population and most of the industrial and agricultural centres are strung out along the route of the Southern Inter-Provincial highway.

Its about time these petty pen-pushers with one-track minds got wise to the simple facts that form the base of a truly national attitude to a national problem.

The South does not dispute Edmonton's right to present its case—or that of Calgary's—but let the briefs be submitted on the pure basis of what is best for the entire West, and not on the sandy grounds of parochial interests.

IS COAL ON THE WAY OUT (Fernele Free Press)

The announcement made a few days ago by the Canadian Pacific Railway that one hundred locomotives are to be immediately converted to oil-burning equipment, should be viewed with great alarm by the people, and particularly the miners, of this city and district. While the change-over may not have any immediate effect in Fernie, and probably may not be felt generally in the mining industry for some time, the writing is on the wall, that this southern British Columbia experiment may be only the beginning of complete conversion from coal to oil.

Coal production is the life blood of this community; other remaining industries of the city and district would not support the present population. Let us then look to the future and be wide awake to meet the pending situation with an open mind. Change over from coal to oil on these one hundred locomotives has been ordered after long consideration by the Canadian Pacific Railway company; this company has long been watching the upward swing in rising costs of coal production, which in turn has "upped" the price of fuel to that company and to every other industry and home using coal. The point has been reached where the railway is taking steps, not only from the coal angle, but every angle to economize on operation costs so that it does not function at a loss.

Locomotives burn a tremendous amount of fuel and the loss of supplying one hundred of these engines with coal represents thousands of tons of "lost" coal, and in turn hundreds of hours of lost labour. Oil producers and natural gas companies are out to compete against coal—the locomotives can use oil for fuel, and homes and industries can use gas—and there are unlimited supplies of both commodities in Alberta, according to recent surveys. Lack of ample supplies for constructing pipe-lines is all that is holding back the natural gas companies from extending their facilities, but this is only a temporary set back—they are after the business, and are going to compete with coal producers the minute pipe-line supplies become more plentiful.

Let us mention again that the present experiment of coal-to-oil conversion on the one hundred C.P.R. locomotives is just that, but if the railway company decides to convert the entire system to oil, what will happen to the coal industry? What will happen to miners' jobs? What will happen to this city?

Commenting—editorially on the present U.M.W.A. wage negotiations in Calgary, the Calgary Albertan has this to say, in part: "Alberta coal mines are in immediate danger of losing many of their best markets, and if they are to survive it can only be by maintaining the greatest efficiency and economy in operations". What applies to Alberta applies also to British Columbia. It would appear, therefore, that economy in the cost of coal production is the answer to retaining markets.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

It is a well known fact that actors, musicians and entertainers thrive on applause.

Just as entertainers respond to applause, so all of us crave and respond to occasional praise. Yet how seldom it occurs to us to praise others! Day after day we go along taking their fine qualities and good work for granted. Even their outstanding accomplishments do not always draw from us the commendation they deserve.

Yet when we do praise someone, we see that it always has a magical effect. Instantly he or she glows with pleasure. And this in itself is sufficient reward for our thoughtfulness.

But our words of appreciation have more lasting effects. They help people develop self-consciousness. They inspire greater loyalty. And they promote happier, pleasanter relationships on every hand.

The contribution which the life insurance business makes to national welfare has been widely praised by such prominent personalities as Winston Churchill, W. L. MacKenzie King and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

MOTORISTS TO HAVE NEW AUTO RATES IN 1949

Changes in automobile rates, effective January 1, 1949, were announced by the Western Canadian Insurance Underwriters' Association.

New Preferred Rating

However a new preferred rating will be given to those persons in the pleasure driver category where there are not more than two drivers in the insured's household, neither of whom are under twenty-five years of age. Despite the general trend to increased rates, these persons coming within the preferred classes will pay no more, and, in some cases, less than last year for Bodily Injury and Property Damage Insurance.

Slightly Higher Rates

Those persons falling into the present pleasure class, not qualifying for preferred treatment as above, as well as owners using their automobiles for business purposes, will pay slightly more next year.

Collision Damage Higher

A most unfavorable loss experience has developed under Collision Damage and rates for all classes of driver.

Fire and Theft rates are unchanged for private passenger cars.

Causes of Increase

The principal factors affecting automobile insurance rates are frequency of accident, severity of accident and cost of repairs.

The increase in rates can largely be attributed to:

1. Larger Claims: Increased cost in medical and surgical care.
2. Higher verdicts: Court verdicts show a sharp upward trend.
3. Rising Prices: Increased cost of labor and materials.
4. New Design: Fenders include headlights, tail lights and a substantial portion of the body. Fancy grill work and elimination of running boards all make for higher repair bills.
5. The increased number of motor vehicles in operation.

HEALTH WEEK TERMED HEALTH EDUCATION'S OUTSTANDING EVENT

About 100 years ago, Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote that "The First Wealth is Health". That thought of Emerson's holds good today, and to give impetus to that fact, The Health League of Canada has designated the week of January 30 to Feb. 5 as National Health Week.

This will be the fifth annual observance of an event which has assumed nationwide importance in that it has become an outstanding project in the field of health education. National Health Week has a two-fold purpose (a) to awaken in Canadians a consciousness of the value of good health, personal communal and national; (b) to develop that awareness of the value of good health into such vigorous action as will obtain better habits and standards of health by personal behavior and by legislation.

"Guard Your Health—Know How" once again has chosen as the "Health Week" slogan. This gives emphasis to the fact that health to a great extent depends upon the "know how" of the people themselves. It is agreed that all people must have access to modern scientific care and protection, but it should be emphasized that the people themselves must learn to heed advice and take advantage of health protecting facts and agencies which are available to them.

National Health Week is but a means of giving emphasis to facts which should be foremost in the minds of everyone during every week in the year. It is the hope of the Health League of Canada, which annually sponsors the observance in co-operation with official departments of health and of education, that every week will be considered a "Health Week" and that the "know how" gained during the week of Jan. 30 will not be forgotten during the other 51 weeks of the year.

People shop where they are invited—that's why it pays to advertise.

Rev. Dr. R. Magowan To Retire In June

Rev. R. Magowan Will Complete 33 Years Service at Termination of Present Ministry.

Last week's announcement to the annual meeting of St. Paul's congregation by the Rev. R. Magowan that he planned to retire from the active ministry in June will see the completion of thirty-three years service to the Church in Alberta by this veteran leader of Coleman's United church activities.

He came to Alberta in 1916 after graduating from the Manitoba College in Winnipeg where he secured the Arts degree in 1911 and followed with the degree of Theology in 1914. His first call was to the Weston church in Winnipeg, remaining there for two years prior to being called to occupy the pulpit at Calgary's Hillhurst Presbyterian church, now Hillhurst United.

He tended the Hillhurst congregation for nine years then accepted a call to the Memorial United church at Medicine Hat.

He returned to Calgary in 1929 to assume leadership of St. Paul's United in that city and remained there until 1936 when he was called to Pincher Creek. He served there until called to the pulpit of the First United Church in Lethbridge where he ministered until coming to Coleman in 1946.

Rev. Magowan has made no definite plans concerning his retirement although it is likely that he will reside in Calgary.

Chains on Brains

Talk to a rural school teacher. Talk, even, to many teachers in towns. They'll tell you that educational facilities are often shockingly poor—so limited they are holding our children back. School houses are decades old, lighting is poor, heat comes from the same stove that glowed for grandparents. Some schools are without teachers—others have teachers with little interest, little training. Conditions are chains on the brains of future Alberta. Not until Alberta as a whole, through the Provincial Government, places Education as its first duty, will Education make the progress it must. Talk, write, call your M.L.A. In the minds of children today is what

Alberta will be tomorrow.

Coleman Tots Escape Death As Truck Hits Sled

Four Youngsters In Miraculous Brush With Death Two Still Under Observation.

Four Coleman tots had a miraculous escape from death at 1 p.m. yesterday when the toboggan they were riding was struck by the Coleman Meat Market light delivery truck, driven by Roddy Blinn. The accident occurred on 4th Street at the intersection near Holy Ghost Church. The truck was proceeding north across the intersection when the toboggan came hurtling down the steep 4th street hill and streaked right into the truck's path. Blinn jammed on his breaks the instant he spotted the sled but was unable to avoid skid crashing into the children. Two of the youngsters, Beverly Lilya, 5, and Johnny Balloch, 7 were thrown clear and escaped with slight bruises but Johnny Hanahan, 5, and three-year old Donna Lilya were struck by a skidding wheel.

Horrified eye-witnesses to the near-tragedy told the Journal the truck driver could not have possibly avoided hitting the children.

Alan Kostelnik, W. Foxton and R. Koscinski rushed to aid Blinn get the injured tots to their nearby homes. All three doctors were called and were treating little Donna and young Hanahan within ten minutes from the time of the accident.

The full extent of their injuries were not immediately apparent and they will be kept under observation for a few days.

Commercial Clubs Plotting Dark Deeds

Despite the fact last week's games were postponed to allow the femmes to strut their stuff, all is not quiet on the Commercial Hockey League front. The coaches of Elks, Legion and The Board of Trade sextets are working furiously behind the scenes to bolster their respective squads by hook or by crook.

The truce in Palestine is being honorably observed compared with the sniping and threats going on behind the scenes in our Commercial set-up. The Traders in particular are plotting some vile changes in their line-up. We have it on good authority that weaklings like Stan. Kwasney, Ed. Somshor and "Ziggy" Zak will be handed their unconditional release as soon as a few outstanding stars such as Tommy Lloyd, Frank Abousafy, Jack Chalmers, Jack McDonald, Wilf. Dutil and Henry Zak have come to terms. We don't care how much it costs' sez "Blank Cheque" Nicholas.

The Legion's coach is no less active and it is a well-known fact around town that such stalwarts as "Gorgeous George" Derbyshire, "Hurricane Harry" Drew and Bobby Lloyd have been ordered back into training.

The Elks have gone "under ground" to keep the enemy in the dark as to their plans but Jack Rushton is doing road work these mornings while Bruno Gentile is down at the freight yards every day in the hope of picking up any "tourists" who may have hopped off to stretch their legs.

The rival camps will be given another week in which to line up their "New Look" squads as the Kimberley versus Coleman Grands game will be staged for the benefit of those who prefer hockey to "Total War" this coming Sunday.

Dickieson To Edmonton For Conference With Manning On Trans-Canada Hwy way

Alberta Director P. A. Dickieson left by car this morning to attend the conference in Edmonton called by Premier E. C. Manning to discuss details in regard to a Trans-Canada Highway route across Alberta.

Mr. Dickieson will be joined by Southern Trans-Canada Association president E. R. McFarland and director Mayor J. A. Jardine, both of Lethbridge.

It is believed that this conference will go far in determining the ultimate route of the Trans-Canada Highway across Alberta.

Advocates of the Yellowhead route will also be in attendance.

Complete victory over tuberculosis is in sight. This is supported by statistics and by the opinion of those who have led the drive for eradication. More adequate case-finding programs have resulted in a rising percentage of minimal cases and a falling percentage of advanced cases.

Grands Split Great Falls Series

Weird Officiating Amuses Locals But Say Great Falls An Improved Club

Coach Irvin Frew and his A. B. C. league champion Coleman Grands invaded Great Falls for a two game series during the past week-end and a good time was had by all, including the referees. "It was pretty weird," said Jimmy Joyce in commenting on the refereeing, "but it worked both ways and we're not using it as an alibi." Coach Frew remarked the opposition only required a few more experienced players to give Great Falls a well balanced club.

The Saturday game was a nightmare to the locals as the referees sent one Grand after another to the hoosegow and Great Falls outnumbered Coleman 8-4. Grands came back in the Sunday night fixture to eke out a 4-3 triumph. Frew sent his charges through a brisk work out on Tuesday night in preparation for the Kimberley series at the arena this Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Daly To Reside At Calgary

A Coleman old-timer bade farewell to Coleman last week in the person of Mrs. Mary Daly who set forth for the city of Calgary which she will in future call home.

Mrs. Daly, with husband and family, arrived in Coleman thirty five years ago. Mr. Daly passed away here in 1915. Dan, now president of the Coleman Canadian Legion was born in Coleman.

Mrs. Daly with her three sons, Robert, William, and Dan, resided in Coleman up to the present time. Mrs. has built a small home for herself in Calgary and will keep in touch with local events through the weekly arrival of The Journal.

Girls' Hockey Match Draws Large Crowd To Arena

Bellevue Girls Shutout Local Femmes In Entertaining Fixture.

A large crowd of puck fans were on hand to greet the Coleman and Bellevue Ladies' Hockey teams when they staged an interesting puck battle at the Coleman Arena, Sunday afternoon last, Jan. 30.

The local girls started in great style and were unlucky not to score in the first period. Jeanette Fauville the Bellevue netminder pulled off a couple of smart stops as Coleman set the early pace. At the other end, Katherine Nakoff was equally alert when the Fisher girls broke away and threatened the Coleman net. The period ended with both goals still intact. Bellevue went ahead in the second canto when M. Fisher outwitted Katherine Nakoff at close range to put the visitors in the lead. The goal was the result of a "sister act" as Donna Fisher got credit for the assist.

A new referee made his appearance for the middle session and it was learned that arbiter Mickey Aldoff voluntarily resigned his post in the first period due to a "painful mishap," painful that is to his morale, being surrounded as he was by members of the fair sex.

Mickey's disappearance seemed to unnerve the Coleman ladies and Bellevue were in complete command during the final session. Josephine Bosely put them two up with a neat drive and L. Michalski saluted the game for Bellevue when she banged in their third and final goal.

Three penalties were handed out by referees, brave men that they were. Line-ups—Coleman: Katherine Nakoff; Julia Kapalka, Shirley Ondrik, Rena Rinaldi, Frances Sikora, Rene Kuran, Dorcas Jenkins, Feorina Coccioni, Joan Johnson. Bellevue—Jeanette Fauville; M. Fisher, J. Miller, B. Sterba, D. Fisher, B. Beal, S. Leskosek, E. Evans, M. Fauville, L. Mich-aluk, B. Fauville, L. Curry, L. Miller, P. Sandulak, J. Bosely and H. Lyback.

Grands Tounce Blairmore 11-4 In Final ABC League Tilt

Easy League Triumph Puts Them In Play-off Final; Meet Winner of Cranbrook Blairmore Series for Championship.

Irvin Frew's rollicking Coleman Grands finished the regular A.B.C. League schedule in rare style at the Coleman arena last week as they tounced Blairmore Bearcats 11-4. The Grands flashed their usual high, wide and handsome brand of puck-chasing as they staged an amazing display of high-powered goal getting in the second stanza.

The Cats made a battle of it to the close of the opening session then were rocked back on their heels in the middle canto as the Frewmen tore holes in the hemp with eight sizzling drives that whistled past the luckless Olson in the Blairmore net. It was 1-1 at the end of the first. Beigan, on a pass from Roughhead netted for Grands, while Lucenti following a three-way play with Brown and Tanaka fired the equalizer. Brown put the Cats ahead on a pass from Tanaka early in the sandwich session then the Grands roared in for seven straight markers before Vejprava snapped the dazed Bearcats out of it with Blairmore's lone goal of the session. Collings nullified that one by scoring Coleman's ninth marker of the night following a pass from Hudz.

Joyce set up Roughhead and Hudz for numbers 10 and 11 in the closing canto while Vejprava netted for the visitors. Line-ups—Blairmore: Olson, Sih and Thornton. Coleman: Vejprava and Smit, Cerney, Lucenti, Brown and Tanaka. Coleman—Sikora; Beigan and Joyce. Hudz; Ford and Collings. Soroff, Roughhead, Getiman, Silvers, Frew and Pavlus.

The Need For Teachers

FOR SOME YEARS THERE HAS BEEN a shortage of qualified teachers in Canada and as a result, standards of education have suffered in some parts of the country. During the war many teachers entered the armed forces or went to work in essential industries. At the same time hundreds of other young men and women who might normally have entered the teaching profession went straight from school to the services or to industry. Since the war ended there has been a continuous shortage of labor in Canada, and teachers have still been leaving their work to accept positions in other fields, while the number of those taking teacher training courses has failed to increase sufficiently to meet the growing demand. At the same time, the population has increased steadily and there has been need for more and more staff for both city and country schools.

Must Train Many More

Figures made public by the Canadian Education Association in 1945 showed that there was need at that time for 10,700 more qualified teachers in Canada. By 1958, it was predicted that 17,000 more teachers would be required, taking into account the normal increase in population during that period. Adding the present deficiency in teachers to that number, the need in 1958 would be for approximately 25,000 more teachers than we have at the present time. A survey conducted by the Education Association also showed that of 66,000 teachers trained in the ten year period between 1938 and 1948, only 26,000 are now in the profession, and that the loss in teachers during that period amounted to sixty per cent. of the total number trained. On the basis of these figures it was calculated that, if normal requirements are to be filled, between 100,000 and 120,000 teachers will have to be trained here in the next ten years.

Situation May Become Acute

These figures show that there will be a need for almost twice as many teachers as were trained in the last ten years, not allowing for any increase in the normal leaving the profession. It is clear that unless something is done to attract more men and women to teaching, and unless conditions are made sufficiently attractive to compete with those in other professions, the situation will become increasingly acute. Teachers' salaries have long been a subject of controversy, but present conditions indicate that unless teachers can be paid for their services in proportion to what is paid to those with similar qualifications in other professions and in industry, it will fall to attract and to hold industrious, progressive men and women. Some improvement has been made in the last decade in teachers' salaries in both city and country schools, but it is obvious that unless the country is to be faced with an increasingly serious situation more thought and attention will have to be given to the problem of raising the level of conditions in teaching to such a place that there will always be an adequate supply of fully trained teachers. Until that time, educational standards are bound to suffer and the lack of well-trained teachers will leave its mark on future generations of Canadian citizens.

Manitoba Polled Hereford Bull Shipped To N.B.

Hazen M. Cail of Ford's Mills P.O., N.B., now 29 years of age, a few years ago purchased three old run-down farms and is building them up with ground limestone and fertilizer and they are really giving results. In 1945 he harvested 1,100 bushels of oats and barley, 800 barrels of turnips and enough good hay for 40 head of cattle.

In 1945 he bought out the Herefords then owned by Mr. R. M. Givon, Post Master of Rexton, N.B. They consisted of a bull and two cows with two heifer calves. From that start he now has 20 head of pure-bred Herefords, 10 of which are now old enough to be breeding cattle.

When attending the Winter Fair held at Amherst, N.S., he saw a Polled Hereford bull shown by Tuttle Bros. of Wentworth, N.S. Although just out of pasture, this bull was second in his class in strong horned competition and so impressed Mr. Cail that he decided that he would like to breed Polled Hereford cattle and do away with the horns. The Tuttle bull was the first Polled Hereford bull to go to Nova Scotia and Mr. Cail wrote Malcolm McGregor of Brandon, Manitoba, who sold the bull to Tuttle inquiring if he could get a similar bull. As a result of correspondence, Mr. Cail purchased eight unsexed Mighty Otto. This bull is by Otto A, the sire of the Tuttle bull, and out of a full sister to the dam of the Tuttle bull, and is a half brother to Otto Leader who was sold at the Royal Show in 1947 and flown to the Argentine where he was Reserve Grand Champion at the great Palermo Show.

Theological Students Given Auto Course

REGINA.—The days of the horse-and-buggy pastor on the prairies has gone—and St. Chad's Anglican theological college here has met the demand of the times.

There's an automotive course for theological students now where the future clergymen learn what makes a car tick.

All students trained at the college will work in the Qu'Appelle diocese, a vast area extending from the international border to well up the province and across into southern Alberta. Cars are essential and a knowledge of how they run is more so where service stations often are few and far between.

The course is believed the first offered student theology anywhere. Some already have put it into use in the practical sense by a quick readjustment to carburetor or fuel line that has enabled the drivers to be on their way again.

Canada's Eskimos May Soon Use Radiophone

WINNIPEG.—Canada's Eskimos some day may be able to chew the fat by radio-telephone.

Officials of the government-operated Manitoba telephone system said that the whole of northern Manitoba soon will be in a position to carry on telephone communication. Their comment came at the official opening of a 300-mile link from Winnipeg to Norway House at the top of Lake Winnipeg.

G. A. Muir, telephone company engineer, said that the company completes additional installations until gradually a chain is forged to allow linking of far-flung nursing stations, fishing villages, lumber camps and trading posts previously cut off from one another and with civilization.

Officials said that doctors at Norway House, for instance, would be able to communicate by voice with their nurses at various stations. This would facilitate diagnosis and allow greater speed in passing along information about medical cases.

MANITOBA FARMS ADDED TO POWER COMMISSION SYSTEM

WINNIPEG.—Nine rural areas embracing 1,254 farms and seven villages were added to the Manitoba power commission system during December. W. D. Fallis, general manager, announced. Hydro engineers are planning studies for lines to reach 14 villages and 38 farm areas in the 1949 construction program.

Mining Prospects For The Prairie Provinces Are Bright For 1949

(By Claude Taylor in The Financial Post)

The economy of Canada's great midwest was materially strengthened in 1948 when gold and base metal production hit the highest dollar mark in the mining industry's history.

Combined mineral production of $61,188,891 for Manitoba and Saskatchewan exceeded 1947 by 20.4%. Manitoba's output of $26,767,711 in 1948 was 46.8% above 1947, Saskatchewan's production, including petroleum output from the Lloydminster field, finished 5.6% above 1947 at $34,421,180.

Canada Increased Population By 188,000 Last Year

Canada's population increased by 188,000 last year, rising to 12,307,000 from 12,119,000, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported recently.

The report, based on the bureau's annual population estimate, showed the largest population rises since 1941 in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia, with decreases of 66,000 in Saskatchewan, 3,000 in Manitoba and 1,000 in Prince Edward Island.

Overall gain in population since the last Dominion census in 1941 was shown as 800,000, or more than 7 per cent.

Ontario's population rose by 319,000, Quebec 298,000, British Columbia 185,000, Nova Scotia 34,000, New Brunswick 23,000, Alberta 4,000, Northwest Territories 4,000 and the Yukon 3,000.

Estimated population in 1946 by provinces, with 1941 census totals in brackets:

Prince Edward Island, 94,000 (85,000); Nova Scotia, 612,000 (575,000); New Brunswick, 480,000 (457,000); Quebec, 3,630,000 (3,332,000); Ontario, 4,107,000 (3,788,000); Manitoba, 727,000 (730,000); Saskatchewan, 830,000 (808,000); Alberta, 808,000 (796,000); British Columbia, 1,023,000 (818,000); Yukon, 8,000 (5,000); Northwest Territories, 16,000 (12,000).

EXPECTS 1949 TO SET AN ALL-TIME RECORD IN TOURISTS TO CANADA

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—The Canadian Government plans to open new travel and publicity offices in New York and Chicago this year.

Labor Minister Mitchell said here also that Leo Dolan, director of travel and publicity, expects 1949 will set an all-time record for flow of tourists into Canada.

FARM MACHINERY OUTPUT IN BRITAIN RAPIDLY RISING

$1,800,000,000 are to be invested in Britain's farms during the next four years. Half of this sum is to be spent on mechanized equipment. Agricultural machinery production in Britain is now valued at $280,000,000 a year, compared with $105,000,000 in 1946. The output of tractors in Britain for the first nine months of last year exceeded $2,000. About 40 per cent. go to overseas markets.

COST OF LIVING

The average minimum weekly wage of British male farm workers increased from 34s 9d (77) in 1939 to 90s (18) in 1947.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

The city girl was on her first visit to the country. She was anxious to show that she was not altogether ignorant of rural conditions, and when a dish of honey was set before her on the breakfast table she saw her opportunity. "Oh," she observed carelessly, "I see you keep a bee."

A very old judge, known for the speed with which he disposed of cases, was asked by a friend to explain.

"I always listen to plaintiff, and then I make my decision." "You never listen to the defendant?"

"Well, I did at first but I found that it confused me."

"What happened to the young man who used to take you out?" "He took me in."

"I hear your daughter is practicing the harp. How is she getting on?"

"Well, her mother isn't quite so keen on going to Heaven as she was."

The best way to ruin your wife's evening when she's all prettied up is to say: "If thought you went to the beauty parlor? What was wrong? Couldn't you get waited on?"

A Hollywood producer received a story entitled "The Optimist". He called his staff together and said: "Gentlemen, the title must be changed to something much more simple. We're intelligent and know what an optimist is, but how many people know it's an eye doctor?"

An actor entered a tailor's shop and gave an order for a suit. He took home a small pattern of the material and showed it to his son. "What do you think of it, Tommy?" he asked.

"Not bad," Tommy replied. "Why, you're looking at the wrong side," added the actor. "I know I am," the boy replied, "but that's the side I shall have to wear when the suit comes down to me."

A man fishing from the river bank landed a pike about two feet long, but threw it back. Later he caught a large trout. This he also threw back.

Five minutes later he caught a small perch and put it into his bag. A fellow fisherman asked him why he had thrown two such beautiful fish back and kept a small one.

"Well," he replied, "my frying pan is only nine inches across."

"I wonder why three-fourths of the typists in business offices are women?" "I should say it is because men like to feel that there is at least one class of woman whom they can dictate to."

Birds were used to carry messages as long ago as 218 B.C.

Life Of A Hermit May Not Appeal To Many, But It Suits Percy Leggitts

KIRKLAND LAKE. — His home may be a rude lean-to tent, and his diet restricted to oatmeal and potatoes, but the hermit of Savard Township likes it.

Percy Leggitts, 57, and white-haired, suddenly became centre of attention after the Montreal police department said they had word of his spartan existence and had communicated with relatives in Montreal.

Leggitts, interviewed while trotting along the highway pulling a little sleigh, said he has no intention of going back to civilization. He's going to stay on his 80-acre lot near Charlton because there he is independent and close to the soil.

"I don't want to go back to civilization because the world is going to be destroyed on account of the way people are living," he said.

He said he has written to his mother and sister in Montreal at various times, and they are not particularly concerned about his mode of life. He also has a brother in Lacchu, Que.

"I could go down to North Bay and get a place in the old people's home," he said. "But I want to have my own place to live away from the crowds."

His "own place" just now is a tiny lean-to, with a small stove, but he's been building a log cabin. He has the framework erected and his main ambition is to get it finished.

"I don't mind living in this lean-to and my health is good, but I want to be independent in a house of my own. I'm building it single-handed."

Leggitts is a familiar figure along the highway, where he has refused offers of a lift by hundreds of motorists. He also refuses offers of meat from neighboring farmers. "I won't ride in cars because they are a product of the world that is going to be destroyed," he said.

Spotted in the cold recently he was clad only in overalls, cap and rubbers. "I don't believe in cluttering myself up with too many clothes," he said. "When it gets too cold I lie down and go to sleep."

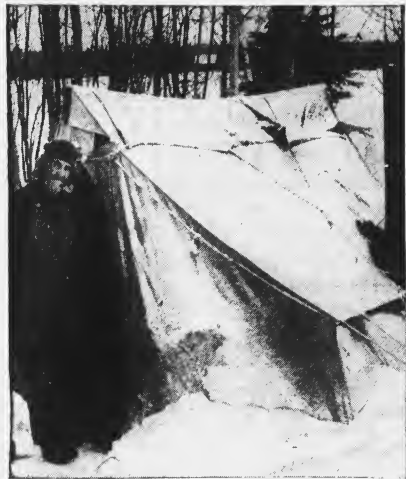

"I just sort of hibernate."

Leggitts came from England to Montreal in 1912 and for some years was a fireman and spare engineer with the old Grand Trunk Railway. As the interview ended he was putting a few sticks in the stove in preparation for his evening meal—boiled potatoes and a few oatmeal cookies he accepted from a district housewife.

Earlier, Provincial Police Constable S. Sodoka, who investigated, reported Leggitts' shack was "definitely unfit for human habitation."

The hermit's ragged clothing was inadequate for winter weather and "his only possessions are a few pieces of antiquated furniture."

The Public Welfare Department at Kirkland Lake gave Leggitts "temporary relief" and he was told a medical certificate as to his condition would be necessary before regular aid could be given.

Percy Leggitts former business man from Montreal forsook civilization to take up a "back to earth existence" in dense bush country near Enghart, Ont. Hermit life is lived by Leggitts, 57, in this tent. His roof is punctured with holes. He claims he is quite warm and does not need the usual heavy clothing worn to keep from freezing in Ontario winters but he is sorry he came so far north to live.—S.N.S. photo.

Deep in bed in his tent, Percy Leggitts wears his hat and is clothed in an old overcoat and other pieces of cloth gathered during his stay in the bush. He admits he can't take a bath in winter but washes his body from a basin. Mr. Leggitts says that "I live the way the Lord intended me to live."—S.N.S. photo.

HEALTH

Arthritis Society Planning Branches

A vigorous program for the completion of its organization has been announced by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society. In a special National Health Week message the Society states that a division has already been established in British Columbia and divisional offices in all Provinces are immediately projected. Local branches will follow.

As a result of rheumatic diseases, including arthritis, each year Canadians lose 9,500,000 days from work, and 54,000,000 dollars in wages. Many millions more are spent for medical treatment and maintenance. 600,000 Canadians suffer from these diseases—100,000 being partially or totally disabled. Arthritis affects people of all ages. Rheumatoid arthritis, one of its most evil and insidious forms, commonly affects young adults.

A first step in developing the Society's nation-wide organization was taken three months ago, with the establishment of its National Office in Ottawa. Side by side with the expansion of its organization, plans are being laid for a co-ordinated attack on arthritis and rheumatism. To seek the causes and better treatment methods, research facilities will be mobilized.

Post-graduate training for doctors will be made available at the most up-to-date centres, both here and abroad. Measures directed at the prevention of crippling deformities need not wait the outcome of further years of research. With early diagnosis and the application of known effective treatments, medical science can already do much to prevent pain and serious deformity. Promotion of a wider application of this knowledge will be undertaken by the Society.

What you believe must influence what you are. What you are determines what you do, and what you do determines your value here and hereafter.—Jane Tudor.

There is nothing that makes men rich and strong but that which they carry inside of them. Wealth is of the heart, not of the hand.—John Milton.

A man will not be the better because he had a well-born father, if he himself is nought. But true high birth is in the mind, it was never in the flesh.—King Alfred.

All good that ever was written, taught, or wrought come from God and human faith in the right.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Notes From N.H.L.

Oldsters Showing

Youngsters How It's Done
Turk Broda and Bill Durnan, the two oldest goaltenders in the N.H.L. are currently leading the League's goalies in number of shut-outs with four. Broda is already 34 while Durnan will be 34 on January 22.

Getting Close To The Century Mark

Sid Abel and Ted Lindsay, Detroit Red Wings' ace forwards, are getting mighty close to scoring that coveted 100th goal in the N.H.L. On January 15 Abel had scored 96 goals in the N.H.L. Lindsay's record read 95 tallies on the 15th of January.

Ace Impersonator

Adam Brown, peppery Chicago Black Hawk forward, is quite an impersonator. His take-off on Al Jolson is said to be better than Larry Parks, and besides "Brownie" can sing.

Three Players With Spotted Records

On January 15 there were only three players in the N.H.L. who had played in every one of their respective club's games without incurring a single penalty. The three players with the impeccable records are Harry Watson of Toronto, Paul Ronny of Boston and Bill Quackenbush of Detroit.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS

CRUMBS

By JANE DALE

We throw some crumbs to the hungry birds

Until their needs are satisfied.

We feel a glow as we rightly know That the birds are fed outside.

We throw some crumbs to a hungry world

And hope they will satisfy.

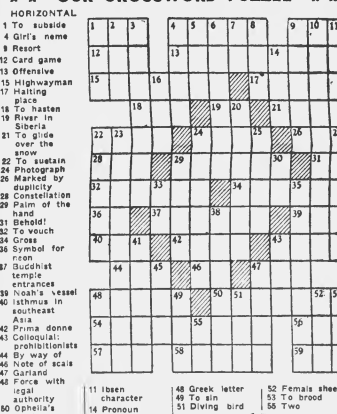

We go our way, thoughtless each day While the hungry children cry.

The crumbs from our living are not enough;

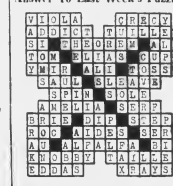

To the birds crumbs are gracious fare.

To those who cry, let us satisfy Their needs from our bounteous share.
